Amazon.com Purchase Sharing Service

More than one year prior to the July 6, 2001 filing date of the present application, a purchase sharing service was implemented as part of the Amazon.com Web site. Through this service, users could opt to share information about their respective purchases from Amazon.com with designated friends. As part of the purchase sharing service, when a user would access a detail page of a product purchased by a friend (who opted to share that purchase), the detail page would be supplemented with a notification of the friend's purchase.
